You don't have any rights to take my name and put it on LinkedIn and send all the emails, I don't even know who are you, I just took two day demo given from IT solutions that's all and you are using my name all the way, If you have any concerns talk to your IT solutions for whom your are supporting, take back that emails if not I have to take serious action... If you have any issues you must speak with me directly...

I am very serious about this action.....
